A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment – or to take another adverse action against you – must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your “file disclosure”). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
 - a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
 - you are the victim of identity theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
 - your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
 - you are on public assistance;
 - you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.

- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need – usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.
- You may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited “prescreened” offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).
- The following FCRA right applies with respect to nationwide consumer reporting agencies:

CONSUMERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBTAIN A SECURITY FREEZE

You have a right to place a “security freeze” on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization. The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a security freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit.

As an alternative to a security freeze, you have the right to place an initial or extended fraud alert on your credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting 7 years.

A security freeze does not apply to a person or entity, or its affiliates, or collection agencies acting on behalf of the person or entity, with which you have an existing account that requests information in your credit report for the purposes of reviewing or collecting the account. Reviewing the account includes activities related to account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases, and account upgrades and enhancements.

- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. For information about your federal rights, contact:

Summary of Your Rights under California Civil Code 1786.22

An investigative consumer reporting agency hereinafter referred to as “Agency” will supply files and information that you have a right to inspect during normal business hours and on reasonable notice.

All files the Agency maintains on you will be made available for your visual inspection as follows:

- In person, if you appear in person and furnish proper identification. A copy of the file will also be available to you for a fee not to exceed the actual cost of copying.
- By certified mail, if you make a written request, with proper identification, for copies to be sent to a specified address. However, agencies complying with a request for such a mailing will not be liable for disclosures to third parties caused by mishandling of mail after it leaves the Agency.
- A summary of all information contained in your file and required to be provided to you under California Civil Code will be provided by telephone, if you have made a written request, with proper identification for telephone disclosure, and the toll charge, if any, for the telephone call is prepaid by or charged directly to you.

“Proper identification” includes documents such as a valid driver’s license, social security account number, military identification card, and credit cards. Only if you cannot identify yourself with such information may the Agency require additional information concerning your employment and personal or family history in order to verify your identity.

The Agency will provide trained personnel to explain any information furnished to you pursuant to California Civil Code 1786.10.

The Agency will provide a written explanation of any coded information contained in your file. This written explanation shall be distributed whenever a file is provided to you for visual inspection.

One other person of your choice may accompany you when you come to inspect your file. This person must furnish reasonable identification. The Agency may require you to furnish a written statement granting permission to the Agency to discuss your file in your companion’s presence.

APPENDIX 2

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS AND PHYSICAL MODIFICATIONS ARE AVAILABLE AT:

The Curve @ West Angeles

WHAT ACCOMMODATIONS OR MODIFICATIONS CAN I ASK FOR?

You or anyone in your household can ask for:

1. An accommodation if you have a disability and need a change or exception to our standard rules, eligibility criteria, policies, or practices, so that you are able to use and enjoy a unit in our property
2. A change in the way we communicate with you. This can include providing information in alternative formats or Braille, American Sign Language (ASL) interpreters, or large print documents.
3. An accessibility modification (physical changes) to your unit or a common area.

We will pay all reasonable costs for reasonable accommodations and reasonable modifications.

WHO WILL BE ABLE TO SEE INFORMATION ABOUT MY REQUEST?

All information you provide is confidential. Information about your request will only be shared with people who need to decide on or carry out the request, or if required by law.

This housing is offered without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, family status, national origin, marital status, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, disability, source of income, genetic information, arbitrary characteristics, or any other basis prohibited by law.

WHAT IS A REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION?

A reasonable accommodation is a change to our rules, policies, practices, procedures or services to help a person with a disability use and enjoy our housing development.

Examples are:

1. Giving you documents in large print, Braille, on cassettes or CDs, or electronically; or reading documents to you.
2. Providing a sign language interpreter or using a video relay service.
3. Allowing another person to help you.
4. Moving you to an accessible unit or a unit with different features you need.
5. Providing an assigned accessible parking space close to your unit.
6. Moving you to a unit with a bedroom for a live-in aide or for medically required equipment.
7. Permitting you to pay rent on a different due day because you get your disability income check later in the month.

This housing is offered without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, family status, national origin, marital status, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, disability, source of income, genetic information, arbitrary characteristics, or any other basis prohibited by law.

WHAT IS A REASONABLE MODIFICATION?

A reasonable modification is a change to the building. Examples are:

1. Lowering a light switch.
2. Providing a front loading washing machine where a top loading machine is provided.
3. Providing an accessible intercom system.
4. Installing a stove with controls on the front.

These are just examples. You can ask for other reasonable accommodations or reasonable modifications you need because of your disability.

WHEN CAN I ASK FOR A REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION OR REASONABLE MODIFICATION?

You can ask at any time. This includes when you apply to rent, while you live here, and even when you are moving out. You may designate a third person or agent who may act or speak for you regarding your request.

HOW DO I ASK FOR AN ACCOMMODATION OR MODIFICATION?

You can ask a property manager, or fill out a Request Form. We can help you fill out the form. Ask us if you need to communicate with us in a particular way due to your disability.

This housing is offered without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, family status, national origin, marital status, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, disability, source of income, genetic information, arbitrary characteristics, or any other basis prohibited by law.

WHAT KIND OF INFORMATION DO I NEED TO GIVE YOU?

You need to tell us what you need and how it is related to your disability.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER I ASK?

We will respond to you as quickly as possible.

We may ask you for more information.

Your need for the accommodation or modification may be obvious. For example, if you use a wheelchair it may be obvious you need accessible parking. If your need for an accommodation or modification is not obvious, we may ask for more information from you or from someone else who knows about your disability needs.

If we ask you for information from someone else, we will give you an Additional Information Form. An Additional Information Form may be needed if your disability or your need for an accommodation or modification is not obvious.

This housing is offered without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, family status, national origin, marital status, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, disability, source of income, genetic information, arbitrary characteristics, or any other basis prohibited by law.

You can choose how to get the additional information:

1. You can sign the Part 2 of the Additional Information Form and return it to the office. We will then send the form to the person you listed and ask them to fill it out and return it to us.

OR:

2. You can sign the Part 2 of the Additional Information Form and give it to the person you want to fill out the rest of the form. You can return it to us when it is complete. We may call that person to confirm they filled it out.

When the Additional Information Form is returned, we will tell you if we need more information.

We may need to talk with you more. Again, ask us if you need to communicate with us in a particular way due to your disability. We will let you know if we think the accommodation or modification will be an undue financial or administrative burden, or fundamental alteration.

We will let you know our final decision in writing. If we deny your request, you can ask for a meeting to discuss it. Your position on the wait list or your tenancy will not be affected because you make a request.

This housing is offered without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender, gender identity and expression, family status, national origin, marital status, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, disability, source of income, genetic information, arbitrary characteristics, or any other basis prohibited by law.
